Q1 Before you cross the castle bridge, look up at the battlements. There are three flags: the one on the right is Queens University, the middle one is the Union Jack, but which country is represented by the one on the left?
A.

Q2 As you enter the gatehouse, look around and see if you can spot a reference to one of our resident ghosts. What’s the ghosts name?
A.

Q3 The man who built the castle way back in the 15th century was called Sir Roger Fiennes. He is waiting to greet you as you walk through the courtyard and truly is a ‘knight in shining armour’. What are his hands holding?
A.

Q4 Now walk along the middle path between the hedges in the Elizabethan Garden. Beyond the steps leading to the Rose Garden there is a statue of a famous astronomer, a reminder that the Castle was once the home of the Royal Greenwich Observatory. What is the astronomer’s name?
A.

Q5 Another reminder is the giant sundial which was erected in 1975 to mark the 300th anniversary of the Royal Observatory. There are also some smaller sundials situated around the Rose Garden. How many can you find?
A.

Q6 Now walk through to the Shakespeare Garden where nearly all the plants on display feature in the works of the great playwright. Look at the shape of the central area. Can you imagine what it once might have been when the Castle was still a private home? Clue: very nice on a hot summer’s day!
THE MARLOW ROPE MAZE

Once out of the maze, look across the large field into the distance, is that a real house you can see ahead of you? Make your way over to the ‘house’. Is it what you expected? This kind of building has a special name. Unscramble the following letters to see what it is: L O F L Y

The estate is home to a variety of wildlife, some more visible than others. Can you name the following animals. Bonus points if you spot any:
